Great Demand for Hides.
Mr. Frank Roux, representing the house of Kauffman, Davidson & Co., of San Francisco, dealers in wool, hides and furs, arrived this morning from Boise to call on their local agent, Louis Mendelson and other business men here. He returns to Boise tomorrow to superintend the shipment of a carload of hides to San Francisco.
Mr. Roux informed us that all the leading tanneries on the Pacific coast have orders from the Japanese government which will keep them running steadily until the last of next May to fill. Every steamer leaving San Francisco for the Orient carries from 800 to 2000 rolls of finished leather and hides and pelts are now bringing higher prices than any time since 1895. Mr. Roux has already contracted for the delivery from various parts of the country of about 20,000 pelts and 8000 hides for shipment by February first.—Baker City Herald.

W. & G. N. Wreck.
The southbound Washington & Great Northern train struck a boulder 11 miles the other side of Marcus, Wash., yesterday morning and the engine and three freight cars were thrown off the track. The engine attempted to pitch down the bank, but the tender remained on the roadbed and held the engine. The engineer and fireman jumped and the latter was scratched somewhat. The boulder was not a large one, and the trainmen do not understand how it got on the track. They say it could not have rolled to the place it was.
The train was going about 15 miles an hour.—Spokesman-Review.

Furnish Degrees at Cut Rates Leads to Libel Suit.
Frederick W. Webber, a New York lawyer, has begun an action against H. Young, editor and publisher of Young's Magazine and the Masonry Magazine, to recover $50,- 000 for libel. Mr. Webber says the American Masonry Magazine printed in September an article entitled "Masonic Degrees at Cut Rates." It was written by Frederick W. Webber and was accompanied by the following advertisement, inserted by Lawyer Cruger in the issue of the magazine: WANTED—2000 members for lodge of Freemasons; entrance fee, $5; affordable, $10. Cruger, 95 Nassau street.
Mr. Webber, who is a thirty-third degree Mason himself, wound up his article with the remark, "The degrees which are conferred at cut rates are as worthless as the gold brick or the package of green goods foisted upon the victim of a sharper." Mr. Young said that Lawyer Cruger had been asking him to print a reply to Mr. Webber's article, and the advertiser suit followed his refusal to print it.

Dix—That's the dead swell-looking dame in front.
Hix—Sure thing. I wish she'd turn around.
Just then she turned.
